HSJ - Hancock announces £13bn debt 'write-off' - 2 April 2020

The government has announced it will “write-off” £13 billion of historic debt across the NHS.

Financially struggling trusts have been routinely forced to seek emergency bailout loans from the Department of Health and Social Care. Last year trusts’ total debts reached £14 bn of which £10bn was related to emergency loans.

Matt Hancock said he had made a “landmark step” to help the NHS’ covid-19 response. However the plans had already been discussed at a January meeting called by NHS England and NHS Improvement, and had been under consideration for at least 20 months.

BMA, CQC, CPA, RCGP -Joint statement on advance care planning - 30 March 2020

The importance of having a personalised care plan in place, especially for older people, people who are frail or have other serious conditions has never been more important than it is now during the Covid 19 Pandemic.

Where a person has capacity, as defined by the Mental Capacity Act, this advance care plan should always be discussed with them directly. Where a person lacks the capacity to engage with this process then it is reasonable to produce such a plan following best interest guidelines with the involvement of family members or other appropriate individuals.

Such advance care plans may result in the consideration and completion of a Do Not Attempt Resuscitation (DNAR) or ReSPECT form. It remains essential that these decisions are made on an individual basis. The General Practitioner continues to have a central role in the consideration, completion and signing of DNAR forms for people in community settings.

It is unacceptable for advance care plans, with or without DNAR form completion to be applied to groups of people of any description. These decisions must continue to be made on an individual basis according to need.

What Works Wellbeing - New research on emotional wellbeing impacts of COVID-19 - 1 April 2020

The COVID-19 pandemic has led to many communities and organisations developing ways to support each other, especially those most vulnerable. Evidence shows that having someone to rely on in times of trouble is the top driver of a high-wellbeing nation. Helping others and having purpose supports personal wellbeing. So this is a good sign.

Yet, there is already evidence showing that 5% of the UK population feel chronically lonely, and the overlap between loneliness and those at risk of low wellbeing. With physical distancing, being on lockdown, and relying increasingly on technology to connect, there is a risk that loneliness will increase along with social isolation.
